

CHANTELLE ANDERSON

Chantelle Anderson is a Vanderbilt Alum, former WNBA player and basketball Hall-Of-Famer turned corporate consultant and speaker.

After graduating from Vanderbilt with a degree in Human & Organizational Development, Chantelle was selected as the 2nd overall pick in the WNBA draft. She spent six years in the League, speaking at many events on their behalf.

Chantelle then joined Stryker Medical where she became an expert at crafting and delivering sales presentations on her way to growing her territory from $250K to $3.2M in her first 18 months with the company, winning several awards.

After 4 years in Corporate America, Chantelle started VC Consulting International, a coaching and consulting firm focusing on the implementation of proven performance strategies. With her background in both sports and corporate sales at the highest level, Chantelle brings a unique perspective on success, leadership, and advancement as a woman of color.

Chantelle has taught her curriculum at companies such as Google, UnitedHealth Group, and Charles Schwab, and been featured on platforms and media outlets such as TEDx, CBS, and ESPNW.

SIGNATURE PROGRAM: THE ACADEMY

Diversity has proven to be a predictor of corporate financial success and a competitive differentiator in recruiting high quality talent. THE ACADEMY helps organizations diversify their leadership by preparing qualified ethnic minorities to excel and advance according to their individual needs. We will help you attract, develop, mentor, sponsor, and retain emerging leaders in diverse identity groups to build a more engaged and profitable workforce.

Program core components:

- Individual participant assessments and advancement planning
- Monthly skill building modules covering necessary disciplines
- Peer-to-peer networking and group challenges
- External 1-on-1 career mentorship
- Internal sponsorship pairings and sponsor directives

The Academy is offered on a bespoke timeline and cohort size, according to organizational needs.

Through identifying high-potential candidates, teaching holistic leadership principles, and increasing visibility of diverse talent, we play an integral part of your comprehensive strategy for diversity, equity, and inclusion.

CLIENT TESTIMONIAL

We worked with Chantelle to build a unique program for high potential minorities at UnitedHealth Group. She immediately connected with our participants and helped them transform and trust their power. Her coaching and teaching style propelled several individuals into their next career position as a result of Chantelle's guidance. I would highly recommend her to any organization looking to work with the best!

- Walter Garcia, Assistant Director, Human Resources, Astellas Pharmaceuticals

I am very excited about my new role and am happy to share details, as I believe that the OAS AA program was instrumental in helping me to make the decision to take on this new position, as prior to this program I honestly considered leaving Optum/UHG.

- Karen Rowe, The Academy participant, UnitedHealth Group (one of three participants to get promoted during or shortly after the program)

I am still reveling in the feeling of excitement from our two days together. In addition, I am sincerely thankful for all your work organizing the program for us. Inspired by our discussions yesterday, I am already noticing intentional mental pivots to incorporate grace, poise, and confidence in my interactions with my team, peers, and leaders. Interestingly, I had the opportunity to share a flight and car ride with a company leader yesterday after our training. It was almost like a pop quiz, but I felt confident in translating the strategies and tips learned throughout our session in practice to communicate effectively, and had a great conversation with him. Thought I would share the experience with you! Thanks again!

- Alice Lan, cohort participant, Accelerator Academy

Thank you so much, Chantelle! The feedback has all been excellent so far. One of the event organizers mentioned how this is the most engaged she's seen the crowd with an external speaker, ever! So I'd take that as high praise. I personally thought it was fantastic, also!

- Ambalika Sudan, Google, Event Organizer

Thank you again for speaking to our group [at the Android Global Summit]. Not only did I receive positive feedback in person from those there, but the experience working with you overall was an extreme pleasure. I personally felt the warmth and strength of your person and think that's what transfers to listeners most.
